About AHKGA

AHKGA is a registered not-for-profit organization made up of researchers, health professionals, and stakeholders who work together to advance physical activity in children and adolescents around the world.

AHKGA's vision is a world of active healthy kids. AHKGA's mission is to power the global movement to get kids moving through thought leadership, knowledge translation and mobilization, capacity building, and advocacy.

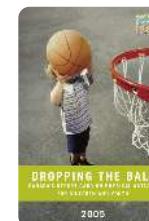

The dominant effort of the AHKGA to date has been its Global Matrix initiative.

About Global Matrix

The Global Matrix initiative involves the production and subsequent comparison of country-specific Report Cards on Physical Activity for Children and Adolescents, using a harmonized process to assess and assign letter grades to a number of common physical activity indicators:

- Overall Physical Activity
- Organized Sport Participation
- Active Transportation
- Active Play
- Sedentary Behaviour
- Physical Fitness
- School
- Family and Peers
- Community and Environment
- Government
